

“What Time Works Best for You?”: Using Appointment Scheduling Software to Save Time and E-mails

David Carson
Distance Education Librarian

CHAPMAN
UNIVERSITY

Problem: Too Much Back and Forth

① “Hi David, can we meet?”

② “Sure, I’m available at these times. Which works best for you?”

③ “I can do tomorrow at 3.”

④ “Someone just scheduled with me at that time. How about 4?”

⑤ “Yes, that works!”

⑥ “Here’s the Zoom invitation. See you then!”

Solution: Scheduling Assistant Software

① “Hi David, can we meet?”

② “Sure, here’s the link to my schedule.
Pick whatever time slot works best for you!”

Lessons Learned

- Set boundaries
- Give options for length of time
- Watch out for overbooking

